At the annual meeting held in March, 1894, the town accepted the provisions of the "State Library Bill," and voted to raise and appropriate the sum of fifteen dollars annually for the support and maintenance of a free public library, and the following named persons were elected for Trustees of the same: Laura O. Philbrick, Mary B. Tuck and Nathaniel E. Tuck.

The Trustees held their first meeting March 20, 1894, organizing with Laura O. Philbrick, Chairman, Mary B. Tuck, Secretary, Nathaniel E. Tuck, Treasurer, and measures were taken, at once, for obtaining the books from the state.

The "Union Library" association established in 1829 kindly donated their books and case.

In June 108 volumes were received from the state, 35 volumes were added from the "Union" and the "East Kingston Public Library," was opened on July 11th, at the residence of Alberto F. Crowell with Mrs. A. F. Crowell Librarian.

The Library now contains 165 volumes. It has been opened

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE Board of Education.

It is gratifying to the committee to be able to report a prosperous year in our schools. Our teachers have worked faithfully, and generally to the satisfaction of our people. They have been thorough in their instruction, and ambitious for the advancement of their pupils, and good progress has been made in most of the branches taught.

Three of our teachers have had charge of their respective schools for several terms, and have shown the same interest and fidelity as in the past.

The fourth school has had three different teachers. All were graduates and experienced in the work, and each possessed excellent ideas of teaching, but the frequent changes were a detriment to the best interests of the school.

Within a few years a steady gain has been made in mental culture. Instruction is more practical, and teachers do not confine themselves to the old routine book work. Object teaching is fast becoming the leading feature in our system of education, and books are used to supplement knowledge gained by personal experience.

Teachers, as a class, should pay more attention to discipline,
